

Luxury or necessity

Water is something everyone needs to be healthy. One person needs about 5 litres a day for cooking and drinking, and 20 - 45 litres a day to stay clean. In this country we are used to using far more water than we really need. These are some examples of how we use water, with spaces for you to add more. Choose whether each use of water is a luxury or a necessity by crossing out the word you do not agree with.
